

Couch White Attorneys Admitted to United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit

On Wednesday, May 19, 2010, Couch White attorneys Jennifer Harvey, Donald Hillmann and Nathan Sabourin were admitted as new members of the bar to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit during an admission ceremony held at the James T. Foley Federal Courthouse in Albany, New York. The United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit is one of thirteen United States Courts of Appeals with appellate jurisdiction over the district courts in the States of Connecticut, New York and Vermont.

Chief Judge Dennis Jacobs, Senior Associate Judge Roger J. Miner and Associate Judge Richard C. Wesley presided over the admissions ceremony. Ms. Harvey, Mr. Hillmann and Mr. Sabourin practice within Couch White's commercial and construction litigation practice groups.

Couch White, LLP is dedicated to the resolution of legal problems encountered by an extensive business and professional clientele. The firm, with offices in Albany, New York City, Farmington, Connecticut and Washington D.C., has extensive experience dealing with electricity, natural gas and other regulated industry issues. The firm represents an extensive list of clients in matters relating to the construction and real estate industries handling a broad range of civil litigation and alternative dispute matters. The firm represents business interests in the New York State Legislature and before state agencies. The firm also furnishes counseling to businesses that provide both services and products, including representation in negotiating and consummating significant commercial transactions, environmental issues as well as labor and employment law matters.